

$105,000 PAID FOR STORE SITE

R. L. Lightbody Buys Texas and Stanton Corner; Woolworth May Come Here.

Charles Davis has sold to R. C. Lightbody, the southeast corner of Stanton and Texas streets, for a consideration of $105,000. The property has a frontage of 63 feet on Stanton street and 125 feet on Texas street, and is now occupied by the State Talking Machine company and the State's mail. Mr. Lightbody will not occupy the property with his clothing store, until next fall, as his lease on the northeast corner of Texas street and Mesa avenue does not expire for nearly a year. The property just purchased will not be improved for some time, but Mr. Lightbody plans to replace the present buildings with a larger structure. The building now occupied by Lightbody's has been taken over by the Texas Bank and Trust company, and will be remodeled as the future home of the bank.

Woolworth Store. The Woolworth store and ten cent store and the United Cigar Stores company are planning to come to El Paso. It was reported Friday morning that the Woolworth company was planning to lease the first floor of the Caples building, on the corner of San Antonio and Broadway. This was denied by James H. Marr, of James L. Marr and company, which has the lease of the building. The United Cigar Stores company is reported to be planning to open its branch here by January 1 and it is reported that the company is considering occupying Bryan Bros. corner on San Antonio and Oregon street for its store. Arthur Fullan, who controls this building, said Friday afternoon that there was nothing to the deal as far as he knew.

TOURNAMENT FOR KIDDIES AT PARK

Gen. Pershing Orders Maneuvers Repeated Saturday; Start at Ten.

Saturday morning at 10 o'clock Gen. John J. Pershing, commanding the United States forces in this part of the country, will come into his own, for he is to be the host of all the children of El Paso. Gen. Pershing and his officers have planned a rare treat for the little folks, for they have selected the best numbers from the tournament held Wednesday and Thursday and those which would appeal most to children, and juvenile El Paso will have an opportunity of seeing the stunts pulled off at Washington park Saturday morning.

Battery to Fire. Capt. R. W. Briggs will call his battery around the arena and then he will fire for the kiddies. Capt. Briggs will put troops 1, of the Eighth cavalry, through all the fancy movements they gave Thursday and, in addition, he will charge right up to the stands for the benefit of the little fliers.

Liout. W. F. L. Simpson is going to take his big war strength company right out in the arena and show them what good exercises Uncle Sam teaches his men, for there are none better than the army drillers.

To Pitch Camp. Col. L. G. Berry will have his best men at the park in the section closest among the different batteries of the Fourth field artillery and Liout. J. D. Elliott, of the Sixth infantry, will pitch camp, make a meal and go through an attack, and all for the sake of the school boys and girls.

Paring riders from the Eighth cavalry will race around the track in the Roman race and this will be a great feature for the little ones. Capt. Douglas Potts will have his men show the children how they salute in Europe and he will do other interesting things.

To Play Dead. Capt. Vidmer is going to have the men of troop G, Eighth cavalry, pretend they are dead and wounded right out on that field and then Dr. H. L. Brown is going to come tearing out with his ambulance company and carry off all the soldiers.

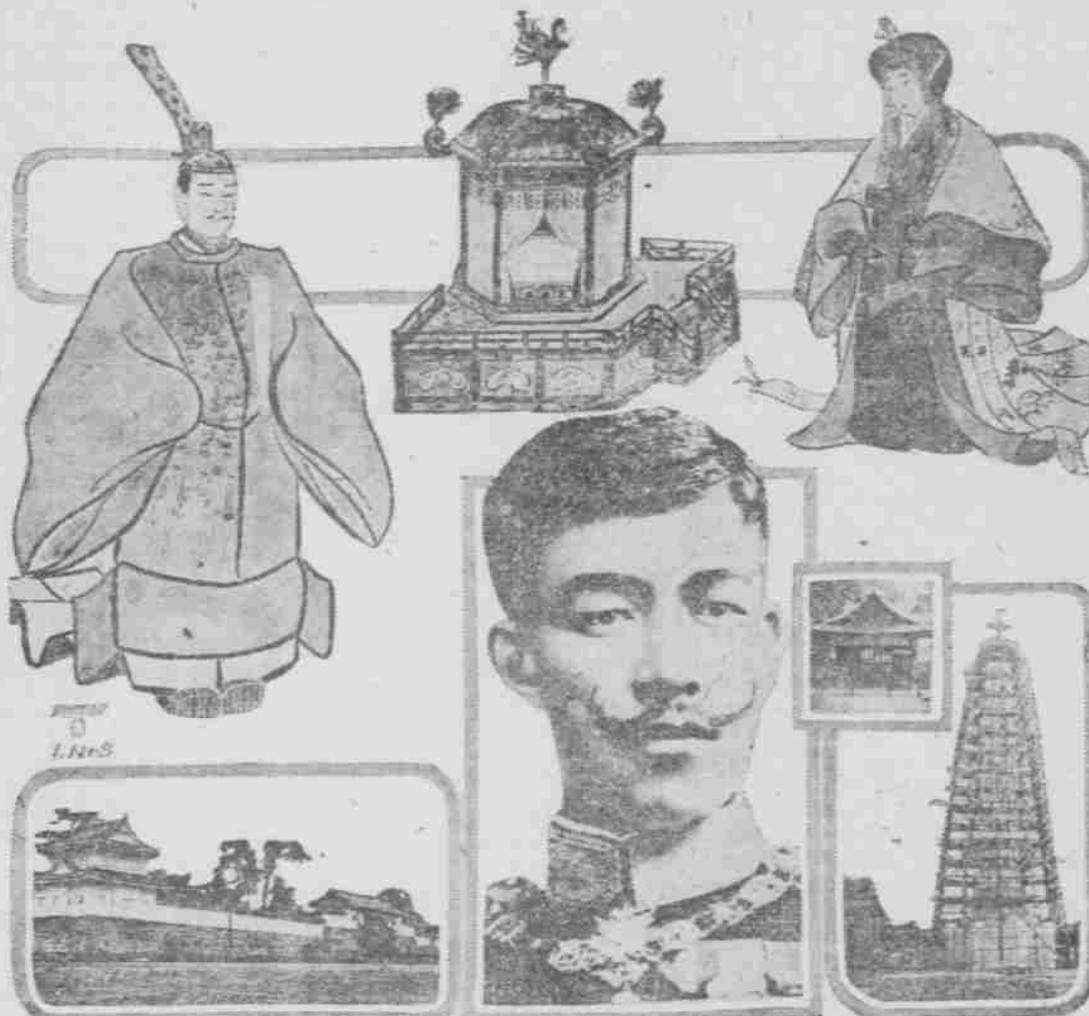

The bakers at the field bakery are going to work all night tonight to get enough buns and doughnuts for the boys and girls to take home. They are three for five cents and all the money goes to charity. Maj. F. C. Baker will show the youngsters just what they do in a big field hospital and they will be invited to go through the wards.

Gen. Pershing's Guests. The children of El Paso are going to have a regular party and all because Gen. Pershing loves children. Grown people will be welcome, too, but the little people are the particular guests of the army and are going to have Gen. Pershing himself to welcome them.

HIGH SCHOOL TO CELEBRATE. The high school students will have a big celebration this evening in Cleveland square, preliminary to the football game Saturday between the School of Mines and the high school.

CORONATION OF THE MIKADO

THE left is shown an original Japanese fashion print of the costume in which the mikado received the foreign ambassadors in his palace at Kyoto. It is of yellow, red and gold silk and is completed with a lacquer head dress and clogs. In the center is the Taka-Mikura, or ancient Japanese throne, in which the emperor and empress were crowned and in which the foreign notables were received. It contains no chairs and the emperor sits on the floor cross legged in true Japanese style. At the right is the coronation costume of the empress, an outer kimono of yellow silk magnificently embroidered, and skirt of dark crimson, with sleeves of different colors. At the lower left is the Niye palace at Kyoto, where many of the ceremonies took place. Next is the emperor Yoshihito. The little picture shows the sacred well at Kyoto from which the water to make the rice wine for the coronation banquets is drawn. At the extreme right is the Banza tower, in course of construction in Kyoto. This tower is commemorative of the coronation and

WEDDING IN NEGRO SOCIETY.

Fred J. Barnes and Miss Blanche J. Becker, well known in the negro society of El Paso, were married last night at the home of A. C. Conley, 1011-12 North Ohio street. District Judge Dan M. Jackson officiated. R. S. Grain was best man and Mrs. J. P. Elliott was bridesmaid. Mayor Tom Lea, police captain W. D. Greet and other acquaintances of the groom called during the evening and extended congratulations. The groom is very popular among his white friends.

Supreme Triumph of the EDISON Diamond Disc Phonograph

Proved Before Thousands That It Actually Re-Creates the Voice Edison's New Invention Placed in a Class by Itself Transcontinental Tone-Test Tour of Christine Miller

On her way to the Panama-Pacific Exposition Miss Miller appeared in the Ball Room of the Statler Hotel, Detroit, before 450 of Detroit's elite (the full capacity of the Ball Room); at Milwaukee, in the Palace Theatre, before 1,500 invited guests (the full capacity of the theatre), with a turnaway of those who were unable to obtain admittance tickets; at Omaha, in the Ball Room of the Fontaine Hotel, to 1,800 invited guests, packing the house (with a turnaway again of those who were unable to obtain tickets), and at Denver, in the Broadway Theatre, to 1,800 invited guests, with a turnaway of 1,000 of those who were unable to obtain tickets; at San Diego, at the Empress Theatre, to 1,100, with a turnaway of over 400; at Los Angeles, in Trinity Auditorium, to 2,000.

On Edison Day Christine Miller appeared at the Panama-Pacific Exposition and sang with Edison's Diamond Disc re-creation of her own voice to demonstrate that Edison had achieved his ambition actually to re-create music so perfectly that the re-creation cannot be distinguished from the original.

This supreme test was made before the officials of the Exposition and music critics from all over the world. It proved conclusively that the Edison Diamond Disc actually re-creates sound as distinguished from the mere mechanical approximation, characteristic of talking machine.

"The romance and beauty of scientific invention were demonstrated last evening when a theatre full of people listened to a woman as she sang a duet with herself. To listen to a singer's own beautiful voice and then listen to it reinforced by the rich and superb tones of that voice, caught and held forever by the great Wizard of Electricity, was a wonderful experience."—Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.

"If there was a difference between the record and Christine Miller's voice, the ear was not keen enough to detect it."—Johnstown (Pa.) Democrat.

"One of the most startling proofs of the new instrument to imitate the human voice was when Miss Miller sang a duet with her own voice."—Johnstown (Pa.) Leader.

"At times the artist stopped and it was difficult, and in some instances impossible, to tell that the singer was not still singing."

"Except for the volume of sound, the reproduction was as perfect as the original interpretation."—Philadelphia Ledger.

"It was the most wonderful recital the music lovers of Milwaukee have ever witnessed. Never before has it been possible so perfectly to reproduce the human voice."—Milwaukee Germania Herald.

"The evenness of tone, the purity of phrase and cadence, the unmarred beauty of it all gave the audience to know that Edison has found the way to A PERFECT REPRODUCTION OF MUSICAL SOUND."—Evening Wisconsin, Milwaukee.
